Community Benefits

Leaving a legacy for tomorrow by maximising the social, economic and environmental benefits during the construction of Trams to Newhaven.

What are Community Benefits?

Community Benefits are a key component to maximising social, economic, wellbeing and environmental benefits within construction.

Community Benefits are a way of ensuring that there is a long-lasting positive impact on communities and society.

It is our commitment to increase social value throughout the duration of the project.

How can the delivery of community benefits enhance the community?

The delivery of community benefits can offer a whole range of skills, knowledge and experience to further develop your group or organisational needs.

We are keen to engage with the wider community and welcome engagements with:

- early education providers and schools
- colleges and universities
- local charities
- employability organisations
- social enterprises
- community groups

Examples of previous initiatives

In Winter 2020, we donated food and toys to Shore Avocado, working on behalf of the Hibernian Football Club Girls Academy collating items for Leith Food Bank. Items were also donated to Streetwork at Simon Community Scotland and food boxes donated to Leith Gives.

South Leith Parish Church also benefited from a new pedestrian access ramp installed by the project.

Our community benefits programme will work across seven categories

This includes:

- Employability and skills
- Education and outreach
- Community cohesion
- Sponsorship and funding
- Fair working practices
- Supply chain and business collaboration
- Innovative practices

Should you wish to contact us then please complete our Community Benefits engagement application. Following this being completed, our team will review within 14 working days and get in touch to further discuss.
